PARADIGM FOODWORKS OFFERS QUALITY
CO PACKING!

We have a fully trained kitchen staff that will produce for you the highest quality product. Dr. David Schultz, a Research and Development Specialist, will take you through your production from start to finish.

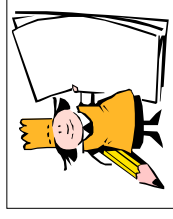

Creating your very own gourmet food line can be easy if you let the right people help you. Paradigm Foodworks, Inc. has been providing start up companies with the support needed to achieve their goal of producing specialty sauces and gourmet foods since 1982.

The manufacturing process can be broken down into 5 easy steps.

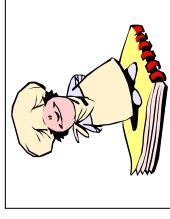

1. Meet with Paradigm's R & D specialist to determine the best way to proceed with your products creation.
2. The laboratory will analyze your product for adaptability of recipe to batch production. Then run a Bench Top Prototype for Q.C
3. Submit the finished product for the customers approval.
4. Source the ingredients and cost the final formula.
5. Stage the first production run.

Charges:

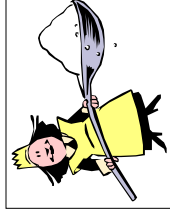

Your cost will be calculated after we complete the 5 steps. It is based on a combination of ingredients and labor specific to your unique product.
